

Pro Bono Attorney Spotlights 2006

H. William Allen of the Allen Law Firm contributed more than 157 hours of pro bono services this past year making him the 2006 VOCALS Attorney of the Year. He was one of the first pro bono attorneys to join VOCALS in 1982, and has simultaneously been both a referral attorney and a financial contributor. Additionally Mr. Allen served on the Board of Directors of the Center for Arkansas Legal Services from 1995 to 2003. Mr. Allen has represented clients in a broad range of cases involving consumer issues, debt collection defense, contracts, homeownership and landlord/tenant disputes and tort defense. He understands how vulnerable an unrepresented, indigent client can be in our legal system. In 1984-85, Mr. Allen was President of The Arkansas Bar Association. During his term, VOCALS received the American Bar Association's Harrison Tweed Award for the outstanding pro bono program in the country and he attended the ceremony and accepted the award. He has also been a tireless advocate in the halls of Congress for increased legal services funding.

Robert M. Ford of Wynne is the winner of the 2005 Outstanding Service Award for exemplary achievement and outstanding volunteerism. Each year one attorney who practices in Legal Aid of Arkansas' thirty-one counties is selected for this prestigious award. Mr. Ford has been a practicing attorney since 1970 and in 2005 volunteered over 101 hours of pro bono service to a needy client in northeast Arkansas. He has, through his efforts, led by example as the Equal Access to Justice Panel was formed with the help of the Cross County Bar Association in 2002. He is known throughout the state as a zealous advocate for all his clients. Two of the highest compliments paid Mr. Ford by his colleagues are that he is a gentleman and a renaissance man. His manners are courtly and convivial at the same time. He possesses a wide range of knowledge on many subjects from the arcane to the practical. As a colleague once said of Mr. Ford, he is in the tradition of some of Arkansas' great attorneys like George Rose Smith, Jimason Daggett and David Solomon. Mr. Ford does honor to the profession every day.

Kyle W. Havner, member of the Baim, Gunti, Mouser and Havner law firm of Pine Bluff, is the 2006 Pro Bono Lawyer of the Year for VOCALS. Mr. Havner was admitted to practice in 1991, joined VOCALS in 1994 and has been a steady, valuable contributor to legal services for the poor in Jefferson County. Concentrating in the area of bankruptcy not only has he volunteered his time to representing referrals individually but he has also consulted with and advised legal services staff on consumer matters. He averages four cases a year since joining VOCALS and was a previous Pro Bono honoree in 2002. This year he closed six cases and accepted five more on which he continues to work. This increase is especially notable in light of the changes in bankruptcy law which occurred in October 2005. But it is not just the quantity of cases accepted that earned him this recognition, it is also his dedication to providing quality legal advice and representation that insures his pro bono clients receive meaningful access to justice.

Gary W. Udouj, Sr. is the Volunteer Attorney of the Year of the River Valley Volunteer Attorney Project. He is an attorney in solo practice. Mr. Udouj is recognized for his involvement in pro bono activities in Sebastian County over many years. That involvement included the 1990 founding and chairmanship from 1990-1997 of the VAP pro bono program along with initiating to wn-meeting style assistance for homeowners through legal services after the tornado of 1996. Over these years he has accepted more than ten cases and has been a model volunteer attorney in western Arkansas. In addition, Mr. Udouj has been a member of the pro bono program's panel of referral attorneys from 1990 until the present.

Each year the Winter Edition of The Arkansas Lawyer contains this insert on Pro Bono activities around the state. This year, based on a recommendation of the Access to Justice Commission, Model Rule 6.1 has been changed to include mandatory reporting, setting an aspirational goal of 50 hours per year and establishing the contribution level at $400. The attorneys, corporations, judges and law students you see here have made their commitments to expanding access to justice for low income Arkansans and we thank them. May these role models encourage even more participants to volunteer in 2007.
